

Danny

The Jazzman

Un progetto di Luca Gastaldi in collaborazione con Patrizia Ferrara

How the quarantine has changed my daily work situation:

My name is Patrizia Ferrara and I am a singer / songwriter, performer. I'm usually working in studios and on stages. Most of the prep work for the writing and composing I am doing at home before I go to the studio or stage to perform the music. During quarantine my work took more place at home than usually. I feel comfortable working at home and that did not bother me too much. What bothered me much though was the absence of communication with other musicians and producers.

I enjoyed taking pictures for Luca very much and did so in a very unprepared and in the moment fashion. Not staging or overthinking my choices of motives rather than jumping right into it.